

House votes in favour of having a say on TTIP

TTIP was debated on 15 Jan in the House of Commons. The motion, from Geraint Davies, Labour, was:

'That this House believes that the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership and any associated investor-state dispute settlement provisions should be subject to scrutiny in the European Parliament and the UK Parliament.'

The debate can be read in Hansard for 15 January (pages 1076-1118):

<http://www.parliament.uk/business/publications/hansard/commons/by-date/#session=26&year=2015&month=0&day=15>

There's a report in the Guardian:

<http://www.theguardian.com/business/2015/jan/15/corporate-wolves-warning-ttip--trade-deal>

The vote was passed without a division of the house (oral vote in which a clear majority had shouted 'aye'.)